“Merging of the World’s”
An exhibition by Karen Klimm.

The exhibition showcases that first step in the journey of digital art to working with acrylic on canvas.

A wonderful achievement in this journey has been entering an artwork in the Telstra National Indigenous Art Awards this year and being a finalist in that competition.

It symbolises my re-entry into the art world with an exhibition in 2022 at Southbank Brisbane with digital artwork printed onto canvas. These works involved my love of photography and the creation of art using Photoshop and printed onto canvas.

This has started a journey of experimenting with various mediums and styles.
